

SÃO PAULO

The skyscraper-heavy metropolis of Sao Paulo, Brazil, is the third-largest city in the world. A popular activity in Sao Paulo is shopping, whether at a local handicraft market or in a pricy boutique. For culturally inclined visitors, the city offers plenty of museums as well as theater, dance and music performances, and the nightlife choices are nearly endless.

Chorinho in the Square. Every Saturday, from 14:30 to 18:30, you have the opportunity to hear the traditional choro / music from Benedito Calixto Square, led by Canary and its Regional. The Food Court with their typical food, is a meeting point all the Saturday afternoons where fair-goers gather to eat snacks, drink a beer to the sound of choro. Antiques, but also a lot of craft and local fashion. It happens on Saturdays, and the square fills with people (predominantly gay audience) still has a fair dining there.
