

HOTEL BAYERISCHER HOF: A WORLD OF ITS OWN.

Our multiple award-winning hotel, ideally situated in Munich's Old Town District, is privately owned in fifth generation by the Volkhardt family. With its 337 guest rooms, including 74 suites, it ranks among the leading German hotels and is member of "The Leading Hotels of the World".

Together with our gourmet restaurant Atelier, a total of five restaurants and six bars meet all culinary delights.

Spread over 1,300 sqm our unique rooftop wellness oasis Blue Spa awaits you, offering breath taking views over Munich.

Our famous Night Club stages almost daily performances by international jazz greats. Our very own theatre Komödie at the hotel Bayerischer Hof represents the best in light theatre. Furthermore the hotel's unique astor@ Cinema Lounge offers latest movies.

LGBTQ* IN MUNICH

The LGBTQ* scene in Munich has a long history: as well as being one of the first cities to hold Christopher Street Day celebrations (the German and Swiss equivalent to Gay Pride). At the end of the 60s, the Ochsen Garten opened here: one of Germany's first leather bars. Its visitors since then have included Freddie Mercury, who would go there for impromptu birthday celebrations and drag parties. Many LGBTQ* events and venues were and still are based in the Glockenbachviertel district, though a number of queer locations and events can also be found in other areas of Munich.¹ The Glockenbachviertel where Munich's exciting LGBTQ* life takes place is only a short walk from the hotel.

LGBTQ* EVENTS

One of the most important LGBTQ* events in the city is CSD Pride-Week, which in recent years has taken place every July in Munich. The event includes multiple street parties such as the lesbian Angertor street party and Rathaus-Clubbing, which is popular with tourists and an older crowd. The CSD programme also includes a host of concerts, parades, film events, parties and multiple cultural and show stages to enjoy every year.

And of course, the world's largest folk festival also has plenty of LGBTQ* events on the calendar. There is the Rosa Wiesn for example, a series of gay Oktoberfest events which traditionally kick off on the first Sunday of the festival, which is known as Gay Sunday. On the same day, gay and lesbian festival-goers gather in the Bräurosl festival tent from midday to celebrate together.

Other exciting events in Munich include the Queer Film Festival, which has taken place annually for the last few years. The Sub centre also organises many regular events, such as the colourful Hans-Sachs-Strasse street party, which attracts 10,000 visitors and has become a highlight for the entire city. Held on warm summer days in August, the event fills the streets with dancing, drinking and celebration. ²
